

1 You will have to affix an Elizabethan collar to your dog so that he does not try to scratch his sty and possibly scratch and injure his eye

2 Take a washcloth and wet it with hot water, wring it out and then lay it against the affected eye for 5 min on and 5 min off until the cloth cools for 3-4 times a day until the sty drains

3 Continue the wet compresses 3-4 times a day and the sty should open up, drain and be gone in 2-3 days

4 If sty does not heal consult a vet as it may not be a sty

DO NOT use extremely hot water, make sure that it is hot enough to the touch but not enough to burn

The hot compress will help increase blood flow to help the sore heal
